

Position Vacancy

Practical Training Officer

ERGT Australia (RTO 2534) services a range of industries across Australia with engaging and immersive safety training. Our courses are accredited by both international and national bodies such as Australia Skills Quality Authority, Australian Maritime Safety Authority and OPITO.

Our Longford centre is expanding and so requires a reliable, eager and willing to learn Practical Training Officers to join their training team.

Ideal candidates will;

- Be highly motivated and want to expand their skill set,
- Be a team player,
- have the drive for continuous improvement and have a fantastic work ethic,
- feel that they could add value to an already highly charged training team member, and
- want to make a difference to the Oil & Gas industry safety outcome.

Practical Training Officers will support the Training team in all aspects of practical training. Duties include those below which have a range of experience and qualification requirements:

- HOIST Operator - no experience required
- Safety Divers - PADI open water dive ticket / commercial diver
- Fuel Controller - Career/volunteer at the fire brigade - desirable, but not essential
- Basic and general maintenance and upkeep of equipment

All training is provided by ERGT Australia to fulfil these roles and is conducted in house. If you would like to work for a fun tight knit team of passionate and professional training team members, look no further!

We can provide you the opportunity to expand your horizons and help develop a pathway to achieve your career goals.
